

I am sickened by the enormous number of ads on television for ED Drugs. There are very few programs that are not focused on sex. We need to protect our children from this smut. It's time to offer responsible programs and advertising. We talk a lot about protecting children from sexual predators on the Internet and saturate the airwaves with trash on television.